Featured Artist – Carol Paquet

Cherry Bomb 2, 2021, digital collage, pigment ink print, 40 x 40, Ed. 3

Carol Paquet is a South African/American visual artist working across multiple media, predominantly painting and abstract photography. She employs both analog and digital media in her work featuring fantasy botanical landscapes. After attending the College of Art in Johannesburg, South Africa, she worked in the advertising industry as an Art Director for 15 years in Cape Town, Johannesburg, London, and Southern California.

She continued her education in the Fine Arts through privately sponsored programs and while living in Johannesburg, studied briefly with William Kentridge, now an internationally acclaimed artist.

Born in N. Rhodesia (now Zambia), Paquet grew up in South Africa, lived in Britain, Germany and Canada, and toggled back and forth between California and South Africa. Thus, impermanence is a theme both in her life and work. Significant influences include Katherine Tzu-Lan Mann, Petra Cortright, and Sara Sze.

Paquet has work in a number of public places, one of which — a 3 x 12 ft commissioned work on aluminum — is in the reception lobby of Hotel Cerro on Garden Street in downtown San Luis Obispo.

Paquet hosts creative artist workshops out of her studio at Willow Pond SLO. Last month's was taught by the realist oil painter Alyssa Monks from New York.

About her work, Paquet says, "I am deeply interested in investigating ways of seeing and perceiving. I present objects in a way that challenges our interpretation of them. Using a camera — a tool whose primary purpose is to record reality faithfully and document without bias — I instead subvert the process to create fictional and imaginary landscapes and still lives.

"My work culls and distorts everyday subjects with scale and orientation, repetition and incongruence. I introduce painting and explore digital collage in my process to create a familiar landscape, but one not of this world."

Photographer's Travel Tips
By Roger Bowsky and Tim Bryan
Central Coast Photographic Society
Meeting via Zoom
October 12, 2023 @ 7 p.m. PDT

Roger and Tim enjoy traveling and photographing those travels. Over time, they have developed tips and tricks for preparation of upcoming photographic journeys. Whether traveling by car or to more distant locations, Roger and Tim are always considering the following when packing for the trip: their photography goals, how much is always enough, what they need (or want) to take and why, as well as any other tools they use to help them prepare for their excursions.

Tim Bryan lives in Paso Robles and is an avid landscape, seascape, wildlife and architectural photographer. Besides shooting locally, Tim photographs extensively in the entire Western United States as well as Europe and Africa. He shoots Canon and post processes in Lightroom and Photoshop. Tim is also on the CCPS competition committee.

When Roger Bowsky retired, he moved to the Central Coast. After his wife recommended he find a hobby that gets him out of the house, Roger joined the Paso Robles Art Association Photography Guild. The type of photography Roger likes the most is landscape, travel and street photography. Roger has been recognized for many of his photos at the Paso Robles Art Association gallery with one of his pictures judged best in show.

Upcoming competition: October 19 at 7 pm on Zoom. Nicole Boughton is slated to be our October judge. She is local, has judged for us before, and gives wonderful critiques.

November 9: Amber Rack will discuss her photographic experiences at Hearst Castle in her presentation, Hearst Castle: Inside Edition.

December: No regular meeting.

Year End Competition will be on December 14.

Painters Meetings and News

The Painters Group: Next meeting is on Sunday, October 8, 2 pm, at the United Methodist Church Annex, San Luis Obispo. Brushstroke award winners Lois Charles and Sheri DeBro will share their art journey and cover many aspects of their art including what, how and why they paint what they paint.

Following their presentation, we will have our normal peer critique time. Please bring works in progress or finished works if you would like feedback from your fellow artists. We will also discuss arrangements for our November 18th meeting and trip to Willow Pond SLO when Carol Paquet will give a special presentation. You will not want to miss this! See photos of Carol's work in this newsletter.
